

TWISTGRIP

The all in one photographic smartphone solution

TwistGrip is the premium universal smartphone clamp from Manfrotto, specifically devised for all smartphone users interested in smartphone photography who want to increase the potential of their device.

The clamp connects any smartphone to any kind of support, functioning as a base for a complete modular photographic system. Its 1/4" thread support connection and cold-shoe lighting connection give you the possibility to use TwistGrip in multiple configurations and with different photographic accessories that will help you always achieving the best shooting results.

Its sturdy and secure aluminium body and high-quality construction is fully Made in Italy and ensures smartphones are reliably supported while shooting pictures and videos: the twist movement and the locking knob securely block the smartphone in the right position in just a few, easy steps.

Thanks to its unique shape and function, TwistGrip is one of the handiest smartphone accessories: its stylish appearance, tactile finish, compact shape and countless applications not only make it easy to carry around and very versatile but also a real pleasure to use.
