

ADVANCED BAG

Camera and laptop backpack with Rear Access

1 product, 3 usages. It's a camera backpack, a laptop backpack & a daypack

Manfrotto Advanced rear backpack is something more than just a camera bag. It can be used as a DSLR backpack, a laptop backpack, a daypack or just take the protective camera case out and use it as a camera insert inside your daypack. The lower compartment holds a professional DSLR camera body (e.g Canon 5D mark III or Nikon D800) with 3 lenses). The zipper of the camera compartment hides on the backside of the backpack (close to you) which gives maximum security to your valuable equipment. There is space for personal belongings in the upper compartment so you can count on it for a day trip. The Manfrotto Advanced Rear Backpack can be used together with Manfrotto PL Camera Strap by connecting the strap to the D-rings on the shoulder strap.

ADVANCED ACTIVE SERIES

New & improved, replacing the original Advanced Shoulder Bags

Advanced Shoulder bags are designed to carry all camera types and sizes: from CSC and super compact with large sensors all the way to full frame DSLRs, with additional lenses and their accessories (depending on size). These bags are a functional solution with enough space for essentials and a few small accessories such as batteries and memory cards. They're very comfortable to carry and provide ergonomic access to the camera by opening close to the body and outwards. The Manfrotto Protection System ensures the protection of all the photographic gear inside and the rain cover included is also an extra safeguard in case of bad weather conditions.
