The new Pro Light RedBee-310 and RedBee-110 camera backpacks are the ideal carrying solutions for any photographer, enabling their kit to be organised in a versatile, practical and convenient way. They meet professional photographers' need for a spacious and reliable backpack to carry their essential equipment when they're on the go.

Redbee-310

The smart design of the Pro Light RedBee-310 allows it to safely carry a 400mm lens attached to a pro DSLR and one more DSLR body with 2-3 additional lenses; or a modular video camera and lenses. The RedBee-310 camera backpack incorporates a safe rear access for camera gear, with flexible dividers and a zippered mesh system to keep camera kit separate from other items, e.g. 15" laptop or tablet plus rain cover.

Redbee-110

The Pro Light RedBee-110 can safely carry 2 premium CSC bodies with 70-200mm lens attached and additional lenses, or a premium CSC, a foldable drone and a handheld camera gimbal. Pro Light RedBee camera backpacks incorporate a safe rear access for camera gear, with flexible dividers and a zippered mesh system to keep camera kit separate from other items, e.g. 13" laptop or tablet plus rain cover.

The new Pro Light RedBee-310 and RedBee-110 backpacks have new and improved features. The enhanced external look includes a new front pocket, a zipper locker to safely hold all your gear, and a side tripod connection.

There is also a side access point, for those who want to grab their camera and capture moments on the go, and a quick access to gear from the top of the bag.

Today, professional photographers and videographers have of a varied range of imaging devices and accessories at their disposal, from traditional camera bodies and lenses to more recent drones and handheld gimbal stabilisers and action cameras. Manfrotto Pro Light RedBee-310 and RedBee-110 backpacks are specially designed to carry them all, in order to meet each professional's specific needs.
