Travel Beyond

Manfrotto adds new exciting solutions for travel photography and videography to satisfy the most demanding outdoor photographers.

Manfrotto's Befree Advanced Carbon travel tripod features carbon fibre legs that ensure best-in-class performance, stability and tripod rigidity in a product that weighs only 1.25kg. Walking for miles to catch the sharpest, unique shots is now pure pleasure rather than a way to test your passion. Like the aluminium version, this new model features Manfrotto's Advanced 494 aluminium Centre ball head.

Featuring the M-lock, the new twist lock developed by Manfrotto that enhances compactness and speed of use, making them the perfect solution to slip into a backpack and quickly set up when you see an amazing landscape. Moreover, both tripods feature the ergonomic leg-angle selectors, which can easily be set to three independent leg angles and are designed to operate smoothly with either left or right hand. The lightweight, solid spider features the Easy Link like Manfrotto's professional 190 & 055 tripods, allowing photographers to boost their creativity by adding accessories to help make their images remarkable. They can easily add lights or reflectors to capture amazing outdoor shots that were previously only achievable with heavily accessorised tripods.

These new models mount a unique plate, the 200PL-PRO, which makes them fully compatible with the world's most widespread standard head attachments: Manfrotto RC2 and Arca-swiss style.

Manfrotto's BefreeAdvanced Live completes the range with a solution independent content creators have been eagerly waiting for: a lightweight, ergonomic video travel tripod, built to record amazing video footage using DSLRs, compact system cameras or small camcorders.

This model's small size and minimal weight does anything but compromise sturdiness or image quality. The Befree Advanced Live has the same brand new tripod legs as the photographic Befree advanced carbon and adds the fundamental feature of the levelling column, which allows a quick horizon set up: a few moves and you are ready to shoot. This model features the Befree Live Fluid Head, which has a fluid drag system on pan and tilt and keeps the camera perfectly balanced thanks to its sliding video plate. Easy to use and set up, the Befree Live Fluid Head has two intuitive on/off knobs that lock and unlock the head's pan and tilt movements separately. This outstanding kit allows videographers to express their creative nature with the confidence of a professional solution they can rely on
